

Friday, July 05, 2024

09h00: welcome and introduction

9h05: Ackerman Sara, University of California, Associate Professor, Anthropology

- Toward Patient and Public Involvement in Health Data Governance

09h25: Blume Arthur, Washington State University, Professor of Clinical Psychology, Psychology

- Indigenous Bioethics: Examining Pandemic Planning and Other Global Health Challenges through Collectivist Lenses

09h45 : Yilmaz Volkan, Ulster University, Northern Ireland, Assistant Professor of Public Policy, Political Science

Cetinoglu Talita, University of Groningen, PhD, Lecturer, Humanitarian

Sen Tugba, University of Southern California, PhD student, Sociology

- “Imagined Futures of Health Systems: Global Policy Narratives on Resilience, Coverage and Digitalisation”

10h05 : Daniore Paola, Institute for Implementation Science in Healthcare, PhD Researcher, Epidemiology

- The role of digitalization in advancing healthcare: are digital research methods legitimized in Switzerland?

Coffee break 10h25 - 10h45

10h45: Hagerty Alexa, University of Cambridge, Dr Alexa Hagerty, Affiliate Minderoo Centre for Technology and Democracy, Anthropology

- Prediction and predestination in an AI model for teenage pregnancy

11h05: McCaffrey Brenna, CUNY Graduate Center, PhD Anthropology, Anthropology

- The Abortion Pill: A Social History

11h25: Moore Samantha, University of Manitoba, PhD Student, Anthropology

- Purity, Pollution, and Exclusion: An Ethnographic Examination of Female Sex Workers and their Bodily Entanglements in HPV-related Illness and Intervention in Nairobi, Kenya

12h45: Sawai Tsutomu, Hiroshima University, Associate Professor, Bioethics - Medical ethics

- Ethical and legal framework for human brain organoid research

Lunch break 12h05 - 13h00

13h05: Schmalig Karen, Washington State University, Professor of Psychology, Psychology

- Communication, Informed Consent, and Trauma

13h25: Sedlakova Jana, Institute of Biomedical Ethics and History of Medicine, Digital Society Initiative, University of Zurich, PhD Researcher, Bioethics - Medical Ethics

- Normative framework for Humanization of Healthcare Chatbots

13h45: Smallman Melanie, UCL, Associate Professor, Science and technology studies

- Science to the Rescue?

14h05: Takae Kanako, Kyoto University, Researcher, Philosophy

- Uncovering the Moral Implications of Technology: Investigating the Moral Nullification Problem in Bioethics and Animal Ethics

14h25 - End of presentations