

Thursday February 06, 2025

09h00: welcome and introduction

9h05: Altinok Ozan Altan, Center for Ethics and Law in the Life Sciences, Dr., Philosophy

- Bioethics as Global Governance

09h25: Alves Duarte da Silva Matheus, University of St Andrews, Dr/Postdoctoral Research Fellow, History of Medicine

- When Plague Immunized the World: Vaccines, Sera, and the Globalization of Microbiology Revisited (1894-1920)

09h45 : Ambikile Joel, Muhimbili University of Health and Allied Sciences, Lecturer, Medicine - Psychiatry

- The Magnitude of Gender-Based Violence and Related Factors among Female Nursing Students in Higher Learning Institutions in Tanzania

10h05 : Bogaert Brenda, CHUV et University of Lausanne, Head of research in medical ethics, Bioethics - Medical ethics

- Affective injustice in healthcare

Coffee break 10h25 - 10h45

10h45: Fritzsche Marie-Christine, Institute of History and ethics in Medicine (Germany), Research fellow, Bioethics - Medical ethics

- Ethical Challenges of Data-Intensive Biomarkers in Medical Research, Clinical Settings and Global Health Contexts

11h05: Jansen Sammie, Dutch National Institute for Public Health and the Environment, PhD candidate, Bioethics - Medical Ethics

- The human exposome: ethical and societal implications

11h25: Jansky Bianca, University of Augsburg (Ethics of Medicine), Postdoctoral researcher, Science and technology studies

- Augmented mental Health: An empirical bioethics study of the use of augmented and virtual reality technologies in psychiatry

11h45: Wang Zeyuan, University of Toronto, Ph.D. candidate, Global | Public Health

- Using Mixed Methods to Understand how Infant Formula Marketing, Communication Channels, and Traditional Health Beliefs Affect Exclusive Breastfeeding among Women in Palawan, Philippines

Lunch break 12h05 - 13h00